SITE DESCRIPTION:

A small quarry site on the side of the road which was used to provide the stone for some of the early buildings in the township including Dodge's store. The site is now a grassed excavation on the side of the hill.

HISTORY:

It is reported locally that the quarry was used to provide material for Dodges store and the Albert Inn.

BOUNDARY:

COMMENTS:

The quarry site, although small and now partially grassed indicates a former land use practice that has disappeared with small scale local quarrying for building materials and forms a link with the development of that community that can still be clearly seen.
