SITE DESCRIPTION:

This is a c1900 small double hipped weatherboard house with a front verandah and a rear lean-to. The windows on the northern side are not original. It features iron lacework on the top of the verandah posts.

The stables appears to be a c1900 timber structure also. It has 4 stalls complete with feeding troughs. There is a loft above and a doorway in the southern gable. It features a tongue and groove timber floor which was originally built on stumps. Later gaps have been infilled with concrete rendered rubble. The roof is of gable construction with a skillion section.

HISTORY:

BOUNDARY:

The listing boundary is formed by the title boundary for the property.

COMMENTS:

The house and stables are good examples of common types of their period.
